I. The Six Pillars of Islam:

1. Shahada (Declaration of Faith): What is the Shahada, and why is it the most important pillar? The Shahada, the declaration of faith ("There is no god but God, and Muhammad is his messenger"), is the foundation of Islam. It signifies a Muslim's absolute surrender to God (Allah) and acceptance of Muhammad as His final prophet. This declaration is not merely a statement but a commitment to living one's life according to Islamic principles.
1. Salat (Prayer): Explain the five daily prayers and their significance. Muslims perform five daily prayers: Fajr (dawn), Dhuhr (noon), Asr (afternoon), Maghrib (sunset), and Isha (night). These prayers are a direct connection with God, a chance for reflection and supplication. The specific times and rituals are detailed in Islamic texts and tradition.
1. Zakat (Charity): How does Zakat work, and what are its benefits? Zakat is obligatory charity, representing a percentage of one's wealth given to the poor and needy. It's a crucial pillar aimed at purifying wealth and promoting social justice within the Muslim community. The specifics of Zakat calculation vary based on the type of wealth possessed.

1. Sawm (Fasting during Ramadan): What is the purpose of fasting during Ramadan? Ramadan is the ninth month of the Islamic lunar calendar, during which Muslims abstain from food and drink from dawn till dusk. Fasting fosters spiritual growth, empathy for the less fortunate, and a heightened awareness of God's blessings.
1. Hajj (Pilgrimage to Mecca): Describe the Hajj pilgrimage and its significance. The Hajj is a pilgrimage to Mecca, Saudi Arabia, that every able-bodied Muslim who can afford it is obligated to perform at least once in their lifetime. It's a profound spiritual experience that unites Muslims worldwide and commemorates the Prophet Abraham's devotion to God.
1. Belief in Angels, Prophets, Books, the Day of Judgment, and Divine Decree: This pillar encompasses the core beliefs of Islam, affirming the existence of angels, the prophethood of figures like Abraham, Moses, and Jesus, the divine origins of sacred texts (including the Torah, Gospels, and Quran), the inevitability of the Day of Judgment, and acceptance of God's predetermined plan (Qadar).

Among these questions the most important one of all sometimes gets lost: Is Islam true? With his new book author Peter Townsend invites you to accompany him on a journey through the foundational texts of the Muslim religion. In the process the truth-claims of Islam will be respectfully, honestly and impartially evaluated. Along the way the following questions will be asked: - Can the traditional Islamic historical accounts be trusted? - Is the Qur'an a 'Perfect Book, Perfectly Preserved'? - Was Muhammad indeed a 'Beautiful Pattern of Conduct'? The answers to these questions will not be sought from modern commentaries on Islam. Instead Questioning Islam goes straight to the classic sources of Islam namely the Qur'an, hadiths (traditions) and biographies of Muhammad. Questioning Islam is not an attempt to promote any other belief system or ideology. Its focus is simply on asking the hard questions about Islam that are all too often ignored or swept under the carpet. 100 islamic questions and answers: Orthodoxy in Arabic Terms Najib George Awad, 2015-04-24 This volume presents Theodore Abu Qurrah's apologetic Christian theology in dialogue with Islam. It explores the question of whether, in his attempt to convey orthodoxy in Arabic to the Muslim reader, Abu Qurrah diverged from creedal, doctrinal Christian theology and compromised its core content. A comprehensive study of the theology of Abu Qurrah and its relation to Islamic and pre-Islamic orthodox Melkite thought has not yet been pursued in modern scholarship. Awad addresses this gap in scholarship by offering a thorough analytic hermeneutics of Abu Qurrah's apologetic thought, with specific attention to his theological thought on the Trinity and Christology. This study takes scholarship beyond attempts at editing and translating Abu Qurrah's texts and offers scholars, students, and lay readers in the fields of Arabic Christianity, Byzantine theology, Christian-Muslim dialogues, and historical theology an unprecedented scientific study of Abu Qurrah's theological mind.

100 islamic questions and answers: Islam and Warfare Onder Bakircioglu, 2014-10-30 The question of how Islamic law regulates the notions of just recourse to and just conduct in war has long been the topic of heated controversy, and is often subject to oversimplification in scholarship and journalism. This book traces the rationale for aggression within the Islamic tradition, and assesses the meaning and evolution of the contentious concept of jihad. The book reveals that there has never been a unified position on what Islamic warfare tangibly entails, due to the complexity of relevant sources and discordant historical dynamics that have shaped the contours of jihad. Onder Bakircioglu advocates a dynamic reading of Islamic law and military tradition; one which prioritises the demands of contemporary international relations and considers the meaning and application of jihad as contingent on the socio-political forces of each historical epoch. This book will be of great interest to scholars and students of international law, Islamic law, war and security studies, and the law of armed conflict.

100 islamic questions and answers: Islamic Insurance Aly Khorshid, 2004 Some Muslims believe insurance is unnecessary, as society should help its victims. Muslims can no longer ignore the fact that they live, trade and communicate with open global systems, and they can no longer ignore the need for banking and insurance. Aly Khorshid demonstrates how initial clerical apprehensions were overcome to create pioneering Muslim-friendly banking systems, and applies the lessons learnt to a workable insurance framework by which Muslims can compete with non-Muslims in business and have cover in daily life. The book uses relevant Quranic and Sunnah extracts, and the arguments of pro- and anti-insurance jurists to arrive at its conclusion that Muslims can enjoy the peace of mind and equity of an Islamic insurance scheme.
