xpress wellness urgent care andover: Pediatric and Adolescent Obstetrics and Gynecology J.P. Lavery, J.S. Sanfilippo, 2012-12-06 This book covers a broad area-the problems associated with female development-from the appearance of gender abnormalities in the delivery room, through the trials of pubescence, early maturation, and precocious child bearing. Experts from many diverse fields of scholarship have contributed chapters covering a wide range of subjects. The contributors have concentrated on their areas of expertise. The broad range of this book is unique; no other textbook covers as many areas. The diversity of subjects covered will help the reader (gynecologist, pediatrician, nurse, health counselor, social worker, or psychologist) to understand both the physical and psychological problems which beset the female, from birth to adolescence. Because of the wealth of information presented, we hope that this volume will serve as a reference source and as a basis for further in-depth studies. The editors wish to express sincere thanks for the efforts above and beyond the call of duty on the part of many members of our staff. A special thank you to Carrie Marcell R.N., our research nurse and University of Louisville coordinator for this project, for her time and effort in putting up with the vagaries of the editors; and to Betty Jones and Linda Grear for their fine secretarial work. Special recognition is due Sue Koenig, whose patience with us in adapting the text to our word processor made our job a great deal easier.

xpress wellness urgent care andover: Antoine of Oregon : A Story of the Oregon Trail James Otis, 2013 Antoine of Oregon : A Story of the Oregon Trail The author of this series of stories for children has endeavored simply to show why and how the descendants of the early colonists fought their way through the wilderness in search of new homes. The several narratives deal with the struggles of those adventurous people who forced their way westward, ever westward, whether in hope of gain or in answer to the call of the wild, and who, in so doing, wrote their names with their blood across this country of ours from the Ohio to the Columbia. To excite in the hearts of the young people of this land a desire to know more regarding the building up of this great nation, and at the same time to entertain in such a manner as may stimulate to noble deeds, is the real aim of these stories. In them there is nothing of romance, but only a careful, truthful record of the part played by children in the great battles with those forces, human as well as natural, which, for so long a time, held a vast 4 portion of this broad land against the advance of home seekers. With the knowledge of what has been done by our own people in our own land, surely there is no reason why one should resort to fiction in order to depict scenes of heroism, daring, and sublime disregard of suffering in nearly every form.

xpress wellness urgent care andover: Vinaigrette Linda Barrett, 2018-11-16 VINAIGRETTE Sorrow and Joy - an odd chemistry whose elements do not form solution like oil and vinegar - one soothing - one acerbic... Compelled to consume The bitter-sweet potion. I must choose. Die; or eat and live. (from the poem Vinaigrette) We live in a bitter/sweet world. It's bitter because of sin and the Fall. It's sweet because the earth bears evidence of God's splendor, and he has restored hope and intimacy with himself through Christ. God's tender call is, Come to me. The world is filled with tribulation, but I AM the balm for your sadness, the rest for your restlessness, and forgiveness for sin. In this life, aches may never vanish, but I am present, and I AM enough. The poems in this collection emerge from a lifetime of effort to fuse conflicting realities. During the struggle to make all things sweet, God's extravagant grace and love became a salve for suffering and a source of joy-even in unhealed pain. Let us, with brutal honesty, embrace this mysterious paradox, and with love-soothed scars begin to see who we really are-God's beloved children. Come. Read. Taste and see that the Lord is good.
